I do not buy bowling equipment.

I do not buy bowling equipment.

I am aware of, but do not use, the services. The Soldiers are not made aware of the services. They need them more than I do.

Overall Comment

All of the activities discussed in this survey are great. Though I do not participate in many of them (stick in the mud), it is important to offer them to the Soldiers. The biggest problem that MWR has with their programs is a lack of information... the Soldiers don't hear enough about the programs, so they don't know they are out there. That is a particular problem with the ACS services. Additionally, MWR needs to find some way to get information out to the spouses. The spouses are really the ones who would bring the families to these events and facilities, but even when the Soldiers know of them, many don't tell their spouses. If the MWR is looking for a place to focus their attention in the coming year, it should be toward getting information out to the Soldiers and their families.

Additionally, the Nye Library could use a little more variety in reading and audio/visual material. It's a great place, but houses comparatively few resources. (All libraries could use more books. ;))

It would be great if we could have a wood-working shop again. I use the autocrafts shop as often as my car allows (which isn't often, since it's new), and it is a popular place. I have talked to many people there who would like to see a wood-working shop open up again, as well.

At Camp Stanley, Korea there was a craft/hobby shop I liked to visit. They had radio control planes and cars as well as ceramics and model kits. I really enjoyed this shop.

I also am a model railroader and would take a great interest in anything having to do with a model railroad club or railroad fan trips/excursions.

I think the dependents need to be made aware that the GYMS are for the active duty first and dependents second. There has been to many times I go to the gym to play basketball and can't because a dependents have reserved the court and we have to wait until they finish before we can play. This paragraph was taken right out of the the MWR REG.
MWR programs are established primarily for active duty (AD) military personnel. AD personnel receive first priority for participation or use if space is limited. Ready and Selected Reserve members have the same priority as AD military personnel with regard to category C MWR activites only.

I think MWR workers need to read the REG too. Active Duty has priority over anyone. An active duty soldiers gets off duty around 1700-1730 every day. He or she should not have to wait until 1900 to play basketbal because some dependent has the gym scheduled. This is happining to much at Goldener GYM at Fort Sill. Military should have priority. This is how the REG reads and it should be enforced.

I feel that the services are great if you are one of the ones living on post otherwise I never drive back on post to do any of the activities listed. The thing they should do is spend the money on building more housing for soldiers and their families. I waited for nearly 24 months for a place to open on post then I decided to buy one instead because of the wait and condition of the on-post housing.

In general, MWR services at Fort Sill are adequate. However, the gymnasiums on post are among the worst I have ever seen in the Army. Except for its pool, Reinhart is perhaps the single worst excuse for a gym I have ever seen, anywhere in my 16 years in the Army--its equipment is old, missing, scattered, or just plain disorganized. The other two, Goldner and Honeycutt, need more equipment and more modern equipment. Honeycutt needs to be rearranged to make better use of space and those useless TV's. Goldner is OK, but its equipment is old. Neither of the three gyms here come close to meeting the needs of Soldiers.

The movie theater is too expensive, especially when for just another two dollars one can see current movies at the mall. I suggest adopting a plan simliar to Korea's, where 8th U.S. Army pays for all patrons to see movies at AAFES theaters on the entire peninsula.

MWR activities at Fort Sill seem to focus on the three crown jewels--drinking, golf, and bowling. This is understandable when you review the profit/loss sheets. They are successful programs and they raise money. Where is the focus? Follow the money--Patriot Club/Impact Zone, Main Golf Course, and the Bowling Alley. If the profits from the main golf course didn't offset the "losses" from Cedar Lakes, there would be a sign that says "returned to natural grassland" inside the walking trail. If it were not so, 2.6 million dollars in golf course renovation could be spent elsewhere.

Shooting sports at Fort Sill are completely ignored. MWR at Fort Bragg NC has a magnificent skeet and trap facility that they have recently expanded. MWR Fort Bliss has one of the premier Rod and Gun Clubs in CONUS.

Fort Sill (on the other hand) has MB-1, and a skeet and trap facility but provides no support to either.

The largest skeet facility between Dallas and Tulsa is here at Fort Sill, but shooters have to drive to OKC, Ada, Tulsa, D/FW, or Waco Texas to spend money (and plenty of it) competing. MWR is completely missing the boat on that one.

At Fort Sill, MWR will make your drinking and golfing, or drinking and bowling, or just plain drinking experiences magnificent--well done and thanks to MWR. Don't drink? Too bad; go to the library, the gym, or work on your car.

I have no idea of how great or poor the MWR services are on post, since I am a civilian employee and not in the military. I do know that Lawton, Oklahoma has minimal activities available for school aged children, especially in the summer time. The YMCA has a summer program/camp for children in the summer, but the cost is outrageous and I am a single mother, caring for 2 children on my own. It would be nice if Ft. Sill would at least offer a summer program/camp for school aged children and also make it available to civilian employees. The military get this service for free or minimally priced. I would like to see it available to civilian employees at a discounted price. The military only seems to care about the military. You seem to forget about the people who take care of your military hospitals and such while you all are deployed...it's us civilian employees.

I love the Nye Library and that should never close. I see soldiers using that facility a lot as well as children and families. They are friendly and helpful at the library and if you tell them what books you are reading, they will usually order them for you and place them in the library. I haven't been going as much as I used to go because of family obligations, but fully intend to start using the library again soon.

Most of the activities listed in this survey are not attractive to my wife and me. This does not mean that I don't think that the activities are important. MWR does many things for the young Soldiers and Marines here at Fort Sill. Many of the activities sponsored by MWR are essential to their well being and that of their family members.

I don't use on post MWR services mainly because I already have a membership with the downtown YMCA, so I use that and I'm a civilian so when I do use those services, there are mostly military people there and I'm not as comfortable around the military as I am around my civilian counterparts. They are very competitive and results oriented and I look for more of a social atmosphere. And the people who work at those places are all just doing a job without much concern or attention to the patrons (or maybe must the civilian patrons). It's a great place for military people to get together and share but not so great for civilians. This is only my own opinion of course.

I used to be a very frequent customer at the wood crafts shop until it closed several years ago. Using the wood crafts shop was something I enjoyed a great deal. Anyone interested in doing wood crafts would be hard pressed to personally provide the quality of facility I used to enjoy on Fort Sill. I know that it was probably underutilized, but there was a core of very faithful customers and an excellent staff that was there nearly every time the doors opened. If I could do one thing to change MWR, I would rebuild the wood crafts shop.

I wish that there was childcare at the gyms. My husband is deployed and I would like to work-out, however, I am unable to due to having three children. I don't want to dump them on someone to go to exercise. I think a swim park and update parks for children would be great. We have the need to have a better picnic area to go to for unit functions so that we can take family. The playground equipment is severely outdated. While I enjoyed using Tincher and SAS for my children in the past-the increase in price and the hassle of scheduling hourly care for my younger child forced me to find childcare elsewhere. We had planned on using the SAS camp like we have done for the last two years however the ENORMOUS jump in price forced us to find childcare off post. At the current prices of childcare that MWR is currently charging it is impossible for us to utilize your services and for us to make any money-if I used your services I would be working to pay for childcare and nothing else.

I feel that MWR offers some wonderful programs-however they do a poor job of advertising what they have available. I know where to go and where to look but we have been here for over 5 years-I know where to find out information. You have two great pools-but the times that you have posted for the pools are not the greatest-not to mention it was difficult to find out what pool was open and what its hours were. Last Summer the pool at the Patriot Club had a family night that we had no idea was offered until a Lifeguard told us about it in the last month that the pool was open. I also feel that you should offer a Summer pass for families that utilize the pool on a day to day basis. MWR could do a much better job of letting people know about all the different water programs that they have to offer at Rhinhart. I also utilize Honeycutt Gym pretty much on a daily basis and am aware of Fitlinks-however most people have no idea what Honeycutt has to offer. I also think it is ridiculous that the Library on post is only open 5 days a week. For single soldiers who use the computers on a day to day basis they need to have access to the library-the library should be open at least 6 days a week.

I also do not mind taking the time to fill out this survey because I know it is important-however-a 30-45 minute survey has a tendency to put many people off to filling out your survey. You should strive to create a survey that can be completed in 15-20 minutes.

Being new to the area is always hard, especially on kids. But thanks to the MWR programs we were able to socialize with people on post and feel like part of the community. We LOVED the season family pass for the outdoor pools and for Lake LETRA. I really liked receiving the newsletter via e-mail. We go to the Movie Theatre on post all the time to watch "family movies". Having the ITR office came in handy as far as planning our family vacation to Six Flags Over Texas last summer. My husband uses the car wash every weekend because it's more convenient than washing the car at home. ACS and all the programs offered by them are a God send. They help me prepare for PCS moves and when we get to our new duty station they help me get acquainted with my new community. So I am not as stressed out and my husband can concentrate on his job and not have to worry about us (the kids and me). I am very thankful for all you do and I appreciate it greatly. I will miss it since my husband will be doing recruiting starting this summer and we won't have an Army post nearby. My kids really enjoyed the events offered by SAS afterschool (dances, baking classes). They were able to socialize and make friends and not feel so much as the "new kids". THANK YOU THANK YOU THANK YOU.

i would love to participate in the swimming classes on post, but they keep getting cancelled, for some reason everyone i know goes to the ymca for swim classes for their children...maybe letting people know about the swim lessons would increase intrest, i would also like to know what other classes are offered at the rinehart, but there is no "user friendly" way to find out...

skydiving?! i'd participate in that if it was offered on post, as well as rock climbing, or four wheeling and dirt biking. but for the most part my husband and i stay away from post because we don't get along with military. their attitudes and personalities make us uncomfortable. we don't have kids, or we'd be more involved. the only activities we'll participate in are the ones that you do with just you or your family, not military strangers. that doesn't mean we don't appreciate what your trying to do though. there are famlily's out there that enjoy your activities and it is making the welfare of those better. we

I dont think opening the golf course to the public would be a good idea. Traffic is bad as it is on post and by allowing outsiders to come on post and play golf would just make that worse than it is now.

The majority of my activities for entertainment, etc are at off post activities because I live off post. During the week, I work on post and really do not think about the daily activities there. During the weekened, because I'm already off post, I don't usually consider coming on post. Some of the activities could use better advertisement to get people to come out to the actual activity. I think more people would come to some of the events if they had more notice.

The child care center on post need to be open longer hours, they are not meeting the needs of the active duty soldiers and their families. Their are many families who need day care earlier and later than they are currently open. The hourly care program is terrible. Their are never enough openings and the way they run the program is not user friendly at all. I was trying to go to school and I could never get care when I needed it. Their should be some kind of priority to those who really need it the most.

The MWR services at the Child Development Center need to have a program that is not full-time, but that is all day. (I.E. MWF from open to close and then Tuesday and Thursday the same hours) This would give more options to parents who work outside the home part-time and would make child care more affordable.

Also, the program needs to actually teach the kids something and the communication needs to be better.

ACS Concerns Concern that FRGs are going to have a "paid representative." BAD idea. FRG people need to come from within the battalion. Period.

Several comments:

First of all, MWR facilities, events, etc. are supposed to be here as benefits to Soldiers, family members and DA employees, NOT the general public. Opening things like the golf course up to the public takes away from the time that people like my husband and I, and his Soldiers can be using those facilities.

Second, isn't the point of MWR to provide lower cost entertainment and recreational opportunities for military families who can otherwise not afford these things? Why are we charging HIGHER prices than what we can find out in the local community? Kinda defeats the purpose of MWR on post, doesn't it?

Don't get me wrong - I enjoy the benefits of MWR, but my husband is an officer and I'm a DA civilian. We make good money. What about the PFC with a young wife and two children? Can he afford to pay insane prices to use LETRA, when he could go to the Wildlife Refuge for FREE? We really need to focus on the SOLDIER here, not the Lawton Community and bringing them on post to increase revenue.

Also, our EO office on post does a fantastic job of finding distinguished speakers for ethnic observances on post. But, most posts DO NOT charge a fee for these events, yet still provide food. Yes, it's only finger food, but it's still FREE. Why does Fort Sill force EO to use it's catering services for events held in the club system here, making the cost significantly more than what the average Soldier would spend/can afford for lunch? Let's be more realistic. Free food=greater attendance.

I'm an Army Brat and grew up with MWR. I really hate to see things getting more expensive and forcing families off of post. Please remember why we're here...to take care of the Soldier and his family.

Thank you for considering my comments. Overall, I am okay with MWR's offerings at Fort Sill; I just think that there are things that could be improved to better serve the Soldier.

I appreciate all of the MWR services on post. We chose to use YMCA in town PRIMARLY because it had on-site child care (included with family membership). While soldiers are deployed, exercise is so important to manage stress. I think more women would use on post fitness facilities if there was childcare provided for a reasonable cost and was CONVIENT on site.
While my quality of life isn't directly affected by on post clubs, I think it is important for soldiers to have a place to go that isn't a strip club. Fort Sill needs to have a woodshop.

I have wanted to participate in several activities, i.e., infant swim lessons, aerobics class, dog training classes, AFTB classes, although because these activities occur during normal work hours I cannot attend. I think if more night or weekend classes were offered, people who work full time would participate more.
Thanks

My only comment is that I live off post and can most of the things at my home. I don't want to transport things to do and then bring them home if I can just do them at home. I think it is probally a great program if you live on post. I hope that some of my answers do not affect the family's that do live on post and use those facilities. I have a car wash facility at the end of my street. So I would not drive on post to wash my car. I live here so I would not pay to rent a cabin at the lake. I would rather go camping away from here or even rent a cabin. It might be nice if you have children and don't want to go too far. Or if you are from out of town. This post needs to have lots of things for the kids to do. This town has nothing to offer. I would love to go roller blading but the three mile track around the golf course is tared and chipped in places which causes problems. It is also too hilly. I don't go on post much except to use the PX and the commissary. I am sure that the facilities are well used by the people on post.

There's not really anything offered here at Ft. Sill, either off post or on. I understand this is a training base, but there are still people here who are here for a while, and the surrounding area off base is not supportive of the military at all, and actually seem to go out of their way to make things more difficult. I've never been in a military town that is so unsupportive. I would like to see MWR make more of a difference besides golf and fishing. All of us don't do that. Maybe more clubs or hang out places, or more shopping or something. It's really boring here.
